

SEMINARS

IN EVOLUTION & ECOLOGY

SS 2022 MONDAY 12:05

- 25.04 P Small-sized players with large-scale effects. Micro-eukaryote biodiversity and biogeochemistry across spatio-temporal scales of fluvial ecosystems
Ute Risse-Buhl (Fakultät für Biology der Universität Kaiserslautern & Institut für Umweltwissenschaften am Campus Landau)
- 02.05 No seminar
- 09.05 P Investigating genomic footprints of sociality
Mark Harrison (University of Münster)
- 16.05 P Admixture in apes and humans and its consequences
Martin Kuhlwilm (University of Vienna, Austria)
- 23.05 Microbiome shifts during early and late host life Seminar postponed until the winter semester**
Ezgi Özkurt (Earlham Institute & Quadram Institute, UK)
- 30.05 P From savanna dynamics to livelihood security: social-ecological modelling of rangeland systems under global change
Gunnar Dreßler (Helmholtz Centre for Environmental Research – UFZ, Leipzig)
- 06.06 No seminar – Whit Monday
- 13.06 P Citizen science in entomology: Monitoring (invasive) insects and their interactions
Nadja Pernat (University of Münster)
- 20.06 Title TBA. Research interests: Human life history, elephant evolutionary biology
Virpi Lummaa (University of Turku, Finland)
- 27.06 TBA
- 04.07 W Mutation dynamics and fitness effects at the single cell level
Lydia Robert (Sorbonne Université Paris, France)
- 11.07 W Functional response of prey density in trophic interactions: from experimental data to process modelling
Jean-Christophe Poggiale (University of Aix-Marseille, France)

P – SEMINARS ARE PLANNED TO BE HELD IN PRESENCE ONLY: LECTURE HALL IN ZOOLOGY BUILDING, KÖNIGIN-LUISE-STR 1-3.
